SENIOR CLASS OF 1954

WAKELON HIGH SCHOOL

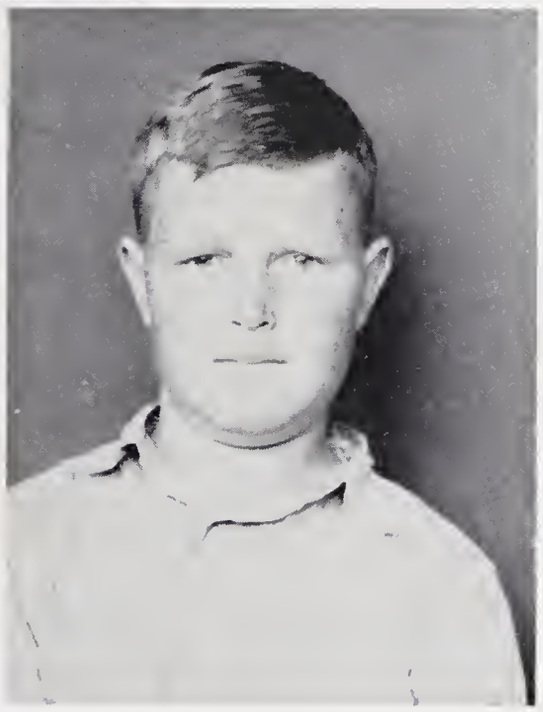
Dedication

To our helpful and understanding principal, teacher and friend, who has rendered every service possible to uphold the spirit of Wakelon High School; to one of the most devoted and lovable leaders, we, the Senior Class of 1954, proudly dedicate this edition of THE WAK-IGH-AN . . .

to our very own . . .

Mr. W. R. Whittenton

In Memoriam



We, the Class of 1954, present this edition of THE WAK-IGH-AN in memory of two of our beloved classmates, Dollie Horton and Annette Phillips, for whom our hearts are grieved today. Dollie was killed on his bicycle in the summer after our sixth year in school. Annette was killed while riding in a jeep after our fourth year in school. Our hearts are sad as we graduate this year without them.

ADMINISTRATION

Principal's Message

To you - the Editor, Sponsor and Staff of this WAK-IGH-AN, I extend for myself and the entire school, our heartiest congratulations for your efforts in producing this fine book.

Your class has developed traits of leadership in this endeavor, as well as in your many other activities. I would urge all the members of your class to try to develop properly your many talents in order to enable you to make worthwhile contributions to this world in which you live. You are learning those ideals and principles here in school that will carry over into adult life. All of us, who have had a part in your training, hope that we have helped you to be better able to take your places as good citizens and leaders in tomorrow's society. I would urge you to continue your training, for your future responsibilities will demand consecrated effort and thought. I would further urge you to take a stand always for what is right and then stick by your convictions.

In saying "farewell," we would leave you with this thought from Henry Van Dyke:

"Four things a man must learn to do
If he would keep his record true:
To think without confusion clearly:
To love his fellow-man sincerely:
To act from honest motives purely:
To trust in God and Heaven securely."

Class Poem

To Wakelon High we now must say adeiu,
Forever to leave its teachings all so true.
But ere we leave thee our dear old school,
Let us look back and see thee as a rule.
A rule to mold our many lives,
A rule to help us through our many
strifes,
A rule to guide our wandering feet
along their way,
A rule we'll thank our God for some future day.

Our hearts are to Wakelon High so true,
And may we be in everything we do
So temperate, modest, kind and wise,
That our School will proudly say,
"They're Ours."

We know that our paths must part ere long.
And in our many undertakings, may we
be strong.
Our devotion so true, will always be,
To Wakelon High, our Alma Mater,
Only thee.

CLASS MOTTO
Our past a memory, our future a dream.

Senior Class History

On September 1, 1942, we, the class of '54, started with much fear and many tears on the long journey toward graduation. Most of us knew nothing about reading, printing or counting to a hundred. Mrs. Eva Page and Mrs. Lois Wall guided our minds into the first phase of knowledge. Very soon we were grown-up second graders with Miss Dean Hardison and Mrs. Carter Studdert as our teachers. We learned the meaning of arithmetic and really got our first taste of school. The rod was spared but soap was free as rain water to little boys who had meanness in their minds. Perhaps that was as close to our minds as the teacher could get.

The third year brought the freeing of the rod. Ask some of the boys what I mean. We all remember playing King and Queen around and under the gymnasium. Miss Melrose Gaylor and Miss Elizabeth Smith, who told us stories of her life as a missionary's daughter in Africa, were our teachers. Having completed another exciting year, we eagerly moved upstairs with Miss Thompson and Mrs. Winston. We received a new book, Geography, and much to our surprise it was more than we had bargained for. We struggled through our first assignments in fractions and outside the classroom we formed our first true rival baseball teams. In this manner we learned to win without crowing and lose without growling.

Mrs. Gregory and Miss Alston were our fifth grade teachers. Many of us remember the day that part of the ceiling fell down in Miss Alston's room when she stomped the floor. We never figured out whether the room was poorly constructed or whether our teacher was exceptionally strong. Ask Douglas Cooke how it feels to have your head rung with a picture frame. I am sure that none of us will ever forget Mrs. Gregory's dog and the thrills that he added to our classroom.

During the sixth year, Mrs. Wallace Chamblee and Miss Rebekah Talbert gave their undivided attention to teaching us the fundamentals of good citizenship and the appreciation of fine art. We are sure that Mrs. Chamblee will agree that some of us had very little art ability.

Mrs. Bunn and Miss Hilda Martin were our seventh grade teachers. We were very proud to be the Seniors of grammar school and accepted graciously the advice that was given us about going into the high school building. During the year we began having our first parties outside of school. I wonder if Carol remembers falling over a fence while going to a weenie roast.

Finally, the big day came. We entered the high school building with Miss Baker and Mrs. Knott as our teachers. Two of the greatest thrills of the year were publishing an annual and composing a North Carolina File.

Miss Melba Strickland and Mr. Appenzeller encouraged us to be good high school students as we, finally Wakelon Freshmen, chose our subjects and learned the art of changing classes.

Our Sophomore year gave us Miss Walker and Mr. Holt for homeroom teachers. They inspired us to attend Biology and Algebra with open minds. Some of our girls were waitresses at the Junior-Senior Banquet in April and we all looked forward to the day when we would be Juniors, when we could participate in graduation exercises and the Junior-Senior banquet. Mrs. Clark struggled with us to make everything a success. Her kind and understanding ways, I am sure, we will never forget when we think of our Junior year.

At last we are on the last road with its many bumps and curves. The hardships are many, but as we think of them, we find many things that make us smile and forget trouble for a little while.

The Washington trip and graduation helped to climax our journey. I am sure we will never forget the thrills we have had during our Senior year. Mrs. Privette has helped us with our big decisions and we do truly appreciate her advice.

As we leave Wakelon, let us not forget her standards, for she is our own Alma Mater.

Class Prophecy

While the two of us were waiting for the third period class bell to ring, we entertained ourselves with an eight ball that Miss Gay has in her class room. We noticed that it looked unusually prophetic, so we stirred up this question for it - Will the Seniors of '54 be a credit to this world by '64? It frowned for a while but finally coughed up this answer - "Very Undecided." Help us to draw our conclusions! Here they are, the Seniors of "54" in "64."

Sarah Tippett and Donald Driver are now stars of Jack Flopman's Heck Drivers. At least they get paid for their style driving.

Russell Moss has a position with the Drooklyn Bodgers. We see them on TV every Sunday and I can say so proudly to my friends, "That bat boy was my classmate."

Billy Massey is happily situated in one of the most modern homes in Hollywood. He is busy day in and day out taking care of his little blonde twins, Jo and Ann.

Someone has to finance the three of them so Jo Ann Jones brings home the bread and butter from her studio where she is working on her latest production, "Here is Proof that Gentlemen Prefer Blondes." She stars under the name, Jarilyn Jonroe.

Norma Pearce is still with the Wakettes, only now they are famed nation-wide. Their current recording on Becca record is a reversion of "I Ran All The Way Home" entitled "Aching Feet."

Christine Barham isn't around anymore. It was all so sad. It happened last spring at the Raleigh-Durham Airport. She backed into an airplane propeller and you know what happened - DISASTER!

Crettie Parrish spends all her time writing nowadays since she made a big hit with her first publication, I KNOW WHY ONE SHOULD NEVER HAVE GLASS IN THEIR CAR WINDOWS. Her characters for this book are based on the true experiences of Wayne Perry and Helen Faye Todd.

Gerry Phillips is a faithful follower of the Navy. Of course she is Mrs. George Crowder, who lives on a house boat with her two children, Belle and Bottom.

Dr. Bulla isn't our school doctor anymore, but Dr. Bullock is. Yes, it is our own Richard.

We aren't for sure about Catherine. The best we could make out was that she had skipped country with a tall, dark and handsome male. We hope that she is headed for greener pastures.

Katie Joyce Eddins is now editor of America's most read comic book, "Cats and Pajama Kidds at Wakelon High."

Gilbert Bullock died at the ripe old age of thirty. His love poems made him so famous that his body was placed to rest in the Poet's Corner of Westminster Abbey.

Douglas Cooke is now a pilot in the Air Force. Since he can't fly too low on his Ford, he has been trying it on his plane. The other day he crashed into the Wakelon High School building and said, "That's something I've always wanted to do."

Hazel Bolton is now No. One columist for the Zebulon Record. Her column is Who's Who in Rocky Cross, Middlesex and Union Hope.

Mener Moody was such a good ticket agent for White's Drive-In that she has been given the position of selling tickets to see Wayne Perry, the mechanical genius. His favorite performance features him taking apart his typewriter and putting it back together while typing 250 words per minute.

Carl Pulley has published a book, "Hints to the Henpecked." But, he didn't learn anything from it. Every time the little woman asks him to stack the dishes, he washes them, too.

Reginald Pearce is now caretaker of the beautiful tropical isle in front of the Wakelon High School building.

Due to Mona Faye Horton's knowledge of horses, she has been given the leading role in Metro-Silver Metal's newest production, "Horses Are A Girl's Best Friend."

Shirley Oakley has been named the best dressed woman of the year. She got her start when her mother dressed her in a three cornered diaper.

Keith Temple has defamed the honor of "wrong goal Bummit." He has gone down in history as the only All-American Drawback to play a whole game of offensive ball for the opposing team.

Ann Strickland couldn't bear the thoughts of breaking up the close friendship that bound them together, so in her old age, Ann is Mrs. Barnes' bed-side maid.

When we asked the eight ball about Pauline Hagwood, all it would say is, "You can count on it." We can't figure it all out.

Jean Corbett was such a good baby-sitter for her little brother that her family has established a Baby-Sitters' Agency of which she is chief baby-sitter.

Mrs. Wall has retired from the school faculty now. But it wasn't hard to find someone to replace her, for Faye Pearce was more than ready and willing. It is good that we have one of our classmates to teach our children.

We all remember Carol's bathing suit figure. With it she couldn't miss a chance with success. She is a well-known model of the famous French bathing suit.

Phillis is quite the celebrity now. A TV talent scout discovered her while she was still at Wakelon. Her famous program comes on every Monday night. So, you have a date at eight with your TV set and "I Love Phillis."

Carl Puryear had been a steady date with one of our school buses all four years of high school. After school was out there was no reason for him to stop operating a bus, so for these ten long years he has been number one driver for Carolina Trailways.

Martha Medlin is now drawing Comic Strips for Al Capp. Since Martha started working for him, he changed the name of his strip to Little Jimmy.

Becky Brantley is now known all over the world as the "Quiz Kidd Genius" because of her intellectual ability. She has put the famous Quiz Kidds out of business.

As for us, well, we liked this business so well that we decided to make it our profession. Be watching for us when we come through Zebulon. We are known as the "Duet Behind the Eight-Ball, Get Two Fortunes for the Price of One."

Last Will and Testament

We, the Senior Class of nineteen-hundred and fifty-four, of Wakelon High School, supposedly sound in mind, do as solemnly as possible declare this to be out last will and testament, hereby revoking and making void all other testimonial writings heretofore made by us.

ARTICLE I To our school, we leave our everlasting loyalty and devotion.

ARTICLE II To our parents, we leave our love and appreciation. We hereby promise to live by the ideals they have helped set for us.

ARTICLE III To the faculty, we bequeath our deepest appreciation for their patience and guidance through the past years.

ARTICLE IV To the Freshmen, we leave our dignified ways.

ARTICLE V To the Sophomores, we will the honor of entertaining the Class of '55.

ARTICLE VI To the Juniors, we leave our honorable position as Seniors. We bequeath our ability to think we are intelligent, our good manners and our special privileges. We charge them to strive to obtain the best our school has to offer.

ARTICLE VII As individuals, the Seniors bequeath the following:

Christine Barham's dignified ways to Patsy Allman. Becky Brantley's fancy garter to Sandra Bunn. She will need it next year if she is a cheerleader. Hazel Bolton's love for Middlesex boys to Jeanne Bobbitt. Gilbert Bullock's ability to flatter girls with his poetry to Dewey Brannon. Jean Corbett's position as treasurer of the Beta Club to Jo Ann Perry. Douglas Cooke's big ears, curly hair and pretty polka dots to Douglas Perry. Donald Driver's good looks to Jerry Chamblee. Katie Joyce Eddins' ambition to Linda Mitchell. Catherine Edward's ability to be so nice and quiet to Norma Lockleair. Pauline Hagwood's natural curly hair to Ann Upchurch. Mona Fay Horton's shyness to Peggy Richardson. Phillis Jackson's ability to keep house to Dorothy Upchurch. Jo Ann Jones' ability to go steady to Jean Bunn. Does Jean need it? Billy Massey's love for State College to Phil Brown. Mener Moody's friendliness to Tillie Blackley in hopes her attitudes will soon change. Russell Moss's baseball suit, accessories, plus his chewing tobacco, to Billy Tant. Gene Oakley's quiet ways to Linnie Lou Price. Crettie Parrish's courteous ways to Peggy Greene. Faye Pearce's silly little giggle to Marlene Phelps. Norma Pearce's witty ways to Shirley Moore. Gerry Phillips' safe driving habits to Ruth Temple. Safe, she says! Reginald Pearce's good bookkeeping grades to Barbara Alford. Wayne Perry's quiet laugh to Kay Denton. Martha Poole's happy married life to Nanny Brown. Carl Pulley's date book to Bobby Croom. Carl Puryear's school bus and his long nose to Benny Mitchell. Shirley Richard's love for a certain place to Janet Upchurch. Carol Richardson's "catty ways" to Betsy Goodwin. Ann Strickland's ability to keep boys out of the boiler room to Diane Broughton. Keith Temple's good grades to Shelba Williams. Sara Tippett's ability to have two boyfriends at one time to Rose Chamblee. Helen Faye Todd's artistical ability to Donna Mitchell. Richard Bullock's egotistical ways to David Alford.
